VEEDOL, the lubricant that resists heat, prevents the rapid formation of sediment in your oil and minimizes friction and wear.

90% of engine troubles are due to inferior oils. Veedol prevents these troubles. Have the old oil cleaned out of your crankcase and fill it with Veedol. Sold by reliable dealers everywhere.

How to make 15 to 1 adjustment

After filling the gasoline tank with Tydol, run the engine until warm. Then lift the hood. Turn the gas adjustment on the carburetor, decreasing gradually the flow of gasoline.

When the engine begins to slow down, turn the gas adjustment back, increasing the flow slightly until you get a maximum engine speed.

This will give you the 15 to 1 adjustment. If you have a "rich" and "lean" adjustment on the dashboard, you can use an even leaner adjustment than the above.

On hills and in traffic use the rich dash adjustment, on the level or in the country use the lean. This assures maximum mileage and minimum carbon with Tydol.

Tydol will operate on the rich mixture needed by inferior gasoline, but Tydol will so adjust you use the 15 to 1 mixture—less fuel and more air.

600 trucks—free from engine trouble, getting high gasoline mileage

NEITHER heat nor cold, rain nor snow stops the 600 trucks of the New York Telephone Company.

Delays for engine trouble, layups for repairs must be avoided in work like theirs.

Long ago the officers of this fleet determined that these machines must not be operated on sluggish gasoline. Such fuel requires a rich, wasteful mixture of 8 parts of air to one of gasoline. It vaporizes slowly. It contaminates the lubricating oil, causes friction and wear, deposits great masses of carbon.

But sluggish gasoline does not delay this fleet. Each unit on the New York Telephone service operates on the famous lean 15 to 1 carburetor mixture. Every morning the tanks of these trucks are filled with Tydol, the Economy Gasoline.

Food Price Cut By 70 Stores In City Chain

General Reduction Expected in Retail Rates; Vegetable Charges Raised as Receipts Decrease

Rice Famine Is Feared

Shipments Reaching Port Two Months Ago Still Tied Up in Ships Here

Lower retail food prices throughout the city were predicted yesterday as a result of substantial reductions made by a food concern operating a chain of seventy stores. The prices listed below were obtained in these stores yesterday on goods which, according to the manager of the company, represented the best grades only:

Eggs, per dozen 49 Cents
Coffee 37
Butter 59
Rice 15
Prunes 20
Sugar 20

At other chain stores best grades of these foods were: Eggs, 59 cents; coffee, 60 cents; butter, 65 cents; rice, 22 cents; prunes, 24 cents; sugar, 24 cents.

Vegetable Prices Increase

The low wholesale price of vegetables which, due to heavy receipts, has obtained for the last ten days, took an upward trend yesterday.

New potatoes were $2.50 a barrel higher than Wednesday's quotation of $14.50; cabbage, which sold Wednesday for $2 a crate, sold for $3.25 and cucumbers at $2 showed an advance of 50 cents. Texas onions remained at $2 a crate.

The normal aggregate car arrivals for the New York market on these four commodities a 17 cars a day. The aggregate yesterday was eighty-one.

Rice Supply Endangered

The city's supply of rice is in danger of being cut off by strikes on the coastwise steamship lines, according to the Merchants' Association. Ninety per cent of New York's rice comes by coastwise steamers. One line has 1,000,000 pounds tied up. According to one of the country's largest dealers, shipments which reached this port two months ago are still in the harbor in the vessels which brought them.

Representatives of the Wholesale and Commission Men's Association, the New York Food and Produce Association and several retail grocers will meet in the office of Armin W. Riley, chief of the "flying squadron," this morning. Mr. Riley has asked and received assurance of cooperation from these organizations in his fight to stamp out profiteering by retailers of vegetables and other commodities.

Wood Denies Profiteering; Pleads To-day

Woolen Corporation Head Declares Indictment Is Founded Upon Misapprehension of the Facts

U. S. to Act in All Cases

Upholding of Lever Act Will Lead to Immediate Prosecutions by the U. S.

Now that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals has declared the Lever anti-profiteering act to be constitutional, the government will prosecute all pending indictments against individuals, firms and corporations. Early trials will be asked. Ben Mattheus, Assistant United States District Attorney, announced yesterday.

William M. Wood, the American Woolen Company of Massachusetts and the American Woolen Company of New York, allied corporations of which Mr. Wood is president, will be called upon this morning to plead to the fourteen-count indictment against them returned last Wednesday by a Federal Grand Jury. The evidence was submitted by Herbert C. Smyth, special Assistant Attorney General. He charges profiteering ranging from 100 to 400 per cent.

Plan Peace-Time Substitute

Armin D. Riley, of the flying squadron, said last night there is a disposition among dealers in necessities to regard the Lever act as inoperative because several Federal District Courts throughout the United States had declared the act to be unconstitutional, notably in Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri and Colorado.

"The Court of Appeals decision," said Mr. Riley, "supercedes all of these declarations and the government will regard this decision as final until the United States Supreme Court passes upon the question. We have every confidence that the government will be sustained. If it is overturned Congress is prepared to enact a peace-time substitute fully as effective."

Through his attorneys, Hayes, Hershey & Wolf, of 115 Broadway, Mr. Wood issued the following statement yesterday:

"I do not care to reply at any length to the newspaper statement of Assistant Attorney General Smyth. I am advised that it might be wanting in proper respect to the court for me to comment upon pending legal proceedings. What I have to say in these respects must, of course, be said in court."

"It may be proper for me, however, to say that Mr. Smyth's statements while no doubt true, are entirely unfounded upon a misapprehension of the facts. What the real facts are will appear in due time."

"There is absolutely no just ground for the suggestion that this company has charged excessive prices for its cloth, or has gained an unreasonable or excessive profit."

Food Retailers Warned

Representatives of the Wholesale and Commission Men's Association, the New York Food and Produce Association, the Washington Market Green Grocers Association and the retail grocers of New York met with Mr. Riley yesterday. Mr. Riley told the dealers that prices must come down and that he depended upon the associations to cooperate with him rather than to go out and arrest individual dealers for profiteering.

"The wholesalers," he said at the conclusion of the conference, "are placing the blame for high prices on the retailers, and the retailers are blaming the wholesalers. It seems to me that when the wholesale market breaks the retailers should cut their prices accordingly, but the instances I have discovered are few. I have great hopes, however, that through these conferences we may bring about a material reduction in grocery prices."

Mr. Riley will go to Washington today to confer with the Department of Justice on the sugar situation and to formulate a program in dealing with clothing profiteers.

United States Marshal T. D. McCarthy is advertising an auction of twenty-five cartons of sugar, each weighing sixty pounds, seized several weeks ago under the hoarding clause of the Lever act. The sale will be held Friday, June 4, at the Manhattan warehouse, 105 and 107 Horatio Street.

James T. Du Bois, Former Minister To Colombia, Dies

Held Many Consular Posts, Was Journalist, Author of Two Books and Lecturer on Food Administration

Jama T. Du Bois, former Minister to Colombia, died yesterday morning at his home in this city at the age of sixty-nine.

Mr. Du Bois was born in Halstead, Pa. He was graduated from Ithaca Academy in 1870, and took a course of lectures at Cornell University to prepare himself for a journalistic career. He was the editor of "The National Republican" at Washington from 1872 to 1877, and was appointed commercial agent in 1877, and consul in 1881 to Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany. Later in the same year he was appointed consul to Calicut, Peru, which position he declined. He was then appointed Consul General at St. Gall, Switzerland, from 1897 to 1901; editor of the laws, Department of State, from 1901 to 1909, and Consul General at Singapore, Straits Settlements, 1909 to 1911.

Mr. Du Bois was made Minister to Colombia in 1911 and resigned from that post in June, 1913.

He was the author of "Fun and Pathos of One Life" and "The Life of an Ex-Speaker Galusha A. Grow." He also delivered many lectures, chiefly on food administration.

Samuel S. Voris
